How to Authenticate This Official Transcript
From San Diego State University

This document is only intended for the following recipient: student name

This official transcript has been transmitted electronically to the recipient cited above and is intended solely for use by that recipient. If you are not that recipient, please notify the Transcript Unit at San Diego State University at transcripts@sdsu.edu or (619) 594-4509. It is not permissible to replicate this document or forward it to any person or organization other than the identified recipient. Release of this record or disclosure of its contents to any third party without written consent of the record owner is prohibited.

This official transcript has been digitally signed and therefore contains special characteristics. If this document has been issued by San Diego State University, and for optimal results, we recommend that this document is viewed with the latest version of Adobe® Acrobat or Adobe® Reader; it will reveal a digital certificate that has been applied to the transcript. This digital certificate will appear in a pop-up screen or status bar on the document, display a blue ribbon, and declare that the document was certified by San Diego State University with a valid certificate issued by GeoTrust CA for Adobe®. This document certification can be validated by clicking on the Signature Properties of the document.

The blue ribbon symbol is your assurance that the digital certificate is valid, the document is authentic, and the contents of the transcript have not been altered.

If the transcript does not display a valid certification and signature message, reject this transcript immediately. An invalid digital certificate display means either the digital signature is not authentic, or the document has been altered. The digital signature can also be revoked by the transcript office if there is cause, and digital signatures can expire. A document with an invalid digital signature display should be rejected.

Lastly, one other possible message, Author Unknown, can have two possible meanings: The certificate is a self-signed certificate or has been issued by an unknown or untrusted certificate authority and therefore has not been trusted, or the revocation check could not complete. If you receive this message make sure you are properly connected to the internet. If you have a connection and you still cannot validate the digital certificate on-line, reject this document.

The transcript legend is the last page of this document.

Effective September 1972, any student whose scholarship is below the minimum grade point average requirements for all college/university work undertaken or for all work taken at this university is placed on probation. Any student already on probation whose scholarship falls below the required average is subject to disqualification. Students with classified graduate standing in the Graduate Division whose scholastic records are unsatisfactory are required to withdraw from the Graduate program and revert to unclassified postbaccalaureate standing. Refer to current catalog for additional details regarding probation.

SPECIAL SESSIONS

Special sessions course work, offered through the College of Extended Studies, is accepted as residence credit. These courses will print under the Special Sessions heading on the transcript. The corresponding unit and grade point values will be included in the main campus grade point average.

EXTENSION / OPEN UNIVERSITY

Extension courses, including Open University courses, are offered through the College of Extended Studies. Open University courses are offered in the regular university curriculum and qualified extension students may enroll by special permission of the department chair and instructor. Open University courses taken Spring 1998 or after are offered for residence credit. Open University courses taken prior to Spring 1998 and all Extension courses are not offered for residence credit, but are considered the same as transfer credit. Note: Some professional advancement courses numbered X-01 through X-79 and X-397 continue to be offered through Extension. These courses are not acceptable toward a degree.
